LEM ARMSTRONG KILLED AT LEXINGTON.

Judge F. S. Moore received a telegram Monday afternoon from Lexington, bearing the news of the killing of Lem Armstrong, of this city. The telegram was from Supt. J. W. Milliken, of the reform school, and read: "Lem Armstrong was accidently killed by another boy today while playing on the campus.

The little fellow was a son of Charlie Armstrong, and was sent to Lexington a few days ago on charge of having broken into a store in the west end of town. Judge Stahr mailed an order to the superintendent last Saturday ordering the boy's return, and he would doubtless have left for home Monday night had not the eplorable accident occurred.

The little fellow was 13 years old. The fact that he was sent away caused his mother great sorrow and his untimely death tas been an almost unbearable shock to her. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of their son.

The remains were brought back zere Tuesday for burial.
